

Three indicators of trophic status - phosphorus, chlorophyll-a, and transparency - shown over time (1990-2009), using data collected at South Deep Station in Onondaga Lake.